THE 2018 EROTIC ISSUE

Eros, a difficult subject to mention! Even in the year 2018, we as humans have not come to terms with one of our most basic instincts and driving factors. Love is everywhere, and so is Eros, but while one is mentioned with the loudest of voices, the other is hidden under the sheets and behind closed curtains.

At VOLO Magazine we have always believed in freeing the human form and our minds from the bondage of social norm, and that is why every year we release an 'erotic issue'... Yes, it's still art, it's still incredible photography, and it even features the most naturally beautiful women in the whole wide world. But this particular issue showcases some of those moments in which our true sexual self is projected a little stronger than others.

Ready to enjoy an incredible ride? This issue is the art of eros, and it's nothing like 'those' videos you spend a lot of time peering at... LoL.

Enjoy the issue

F LAWLESS

TANIA MARIN shot by EDGAR MARIN

'I'm a self-taught photographer based in Lleida, Spain. I started getting interested in photography after I bought my first DSLR for a trip to New York. After that, my curiosity began to be a real passion. I've managed to shoot LLEIDES FMX TEAM and their models for quite a few years now, having the opportunity to shoot big names of FMX as Libor Podmol or Rob Adelberg and Red-bull Rampage Winner Andreu Lacondeguy. That experience led to other motor sports such as Supermotard, Dirt Track, and Stunt Bike, but lately models came across action sports, and it's taking a big part of my time.'

Tania is an amateur model and a really good friend. She's been working as a part time model for quite a long time and in my opinion she's ready to take the big step into professionalism. She's working really hard to get a name into the industry.

So I bought equipments and started my photography journey with my wife, then her friends. My wife is an trainer at the gym. So basically, all of my models I have found are gymnasts.

I live in a small Puritan town with a population of 300 thousand people. Here, almost everyone know each other, and participation in such photo shoots condemned. Therefore, all of my models are anonymous. The pictures can not see the girls faces."

NUMA shot by ALESSANDRO CARAMAGNA

"I grew up as an artist, painter and comic book designer in 2007 for several reasons I decided for a drastic change of career, still remain in visual arts, carrying all the knowledge and compositional experience of impact, and the sensuality they characterize my previous work, in the world of photographic representation.

Being a fan of dark and rock music and glam rock, I decide to focus my creativity on single significant images, each of my photography has a key point of reading and attention, which directs the reader's eye to the "point" point "of the whole picture.

So my way of transposing my ideas into black and white noir is often borne out by my photographic sets.

The first signature of my photos was the DevilInside Studio logo, in the last year decided to give a more meaningful task to my photographic world, leaving the old name (which has accompanied me for about ten years) to go to the name of a mysterious but much more significant for my artistic journey, IONONESISTO.

In the course of my career I realized advertising campaigns for jewelery (Garavelli, De Lazzari etc etc), I collaborated with numerous music bands making shooting directed to the media and their advertising, whether they were CDs, billboards or sites, artist Gabry Ponte for which I realized the service of his site and some CDs at the end of the first decade of 2000.

I collaborated and published for numerous printed and online magazines, including Panorama (Mondadori Group), Top, Vip, Chi, Novella2000 and many more. I am currently working for the monthly Elaborare magazine, outbound in all Italian newsstands.

"If glitter was a color it'd be my favorite. And if I could write a bio in one sentence I would end it there. To further introduce myself however I'm a bit of a reserved girl from a southern IL village. (Until the dj plays my favorite song anyway) Every where I need to go is a train ride and a flight away but I don't mind it. Keeping work away from home gives me the gift of staying focused on what's truly important and that's my family and puppies of course.

WET PLATES<sup>And</sup> SKIN

KAYLEEN shot by MICHAEL J. BAMBUCH

"I wanted to create atmosphere and depth out of nothing. I feel like you can create a scene with the right tools. Most people would just see a backdrop covering my coffee table in my living room but I saw a steamy, body focused, intimate portrait with Kaylee. Take a beautiful soul, skin, some water, and you just have a recipe for something amazing." - Michael

Michael J. Bambuch is a fashion and arts photographer, originally from New England, now in Raleigh, North Carolina. He studied psychology and music in college and uses them abundantly during his shoots. He loves the interaction he gets to have with his models and subjects and appreciates all the relationships that have been afforded to him because of his work. Mike loves making images. He tries to shoot every medium of photography he can get his hands on, from large format cameras to iphones. His work bridges the 20th century gap of film nostalgia and the latitude of digital pictures. Nothing makes him smile more than when he makes something wonderful with another person on his same artistic wavelength.

Kaylee J. Knight is a natural soul hailing from Florida now in Raleigh, North Carolina. She's a self described nature addict and you can find her wandering barefoot on hikes through the woods of this beautiful state. She is into all things outdoors. When she's not picking the perfect forest mushroom she dives head first into the artistic side of modeling. She hopes to be signed one day and focuses on the amazing collaborative efforts of creatives in the area.

NOTA MU shot by TONY RAY

VOLO MAGAZINE 61

"Just a guy with a camera shooting my wife. When I met her she suffered from low self esteem having been one of the victims of a sexual predator at her bible school in Indonesia. I did view the page she had and told her she could have a model page. So we bought a camera and her model IG page grew. And her self esteem with it. She has become a muse and has been drawn, painted, published and now sculpted. She has always been supportive of true artists and will always without collecting fees.

We are currently telling her story through a documentary of how art has brought healing. (It includes the exposure of the predator and how the church hid him). And it will include stories of the artists that she has been their muse. We have a collection of items of her. Publications, photos, drawings, paintings, and now a sculpture and one more scheduled in September. We hope do to shows with these items and tell her story in the future."

JUJU BHREIS

@jujubahreis

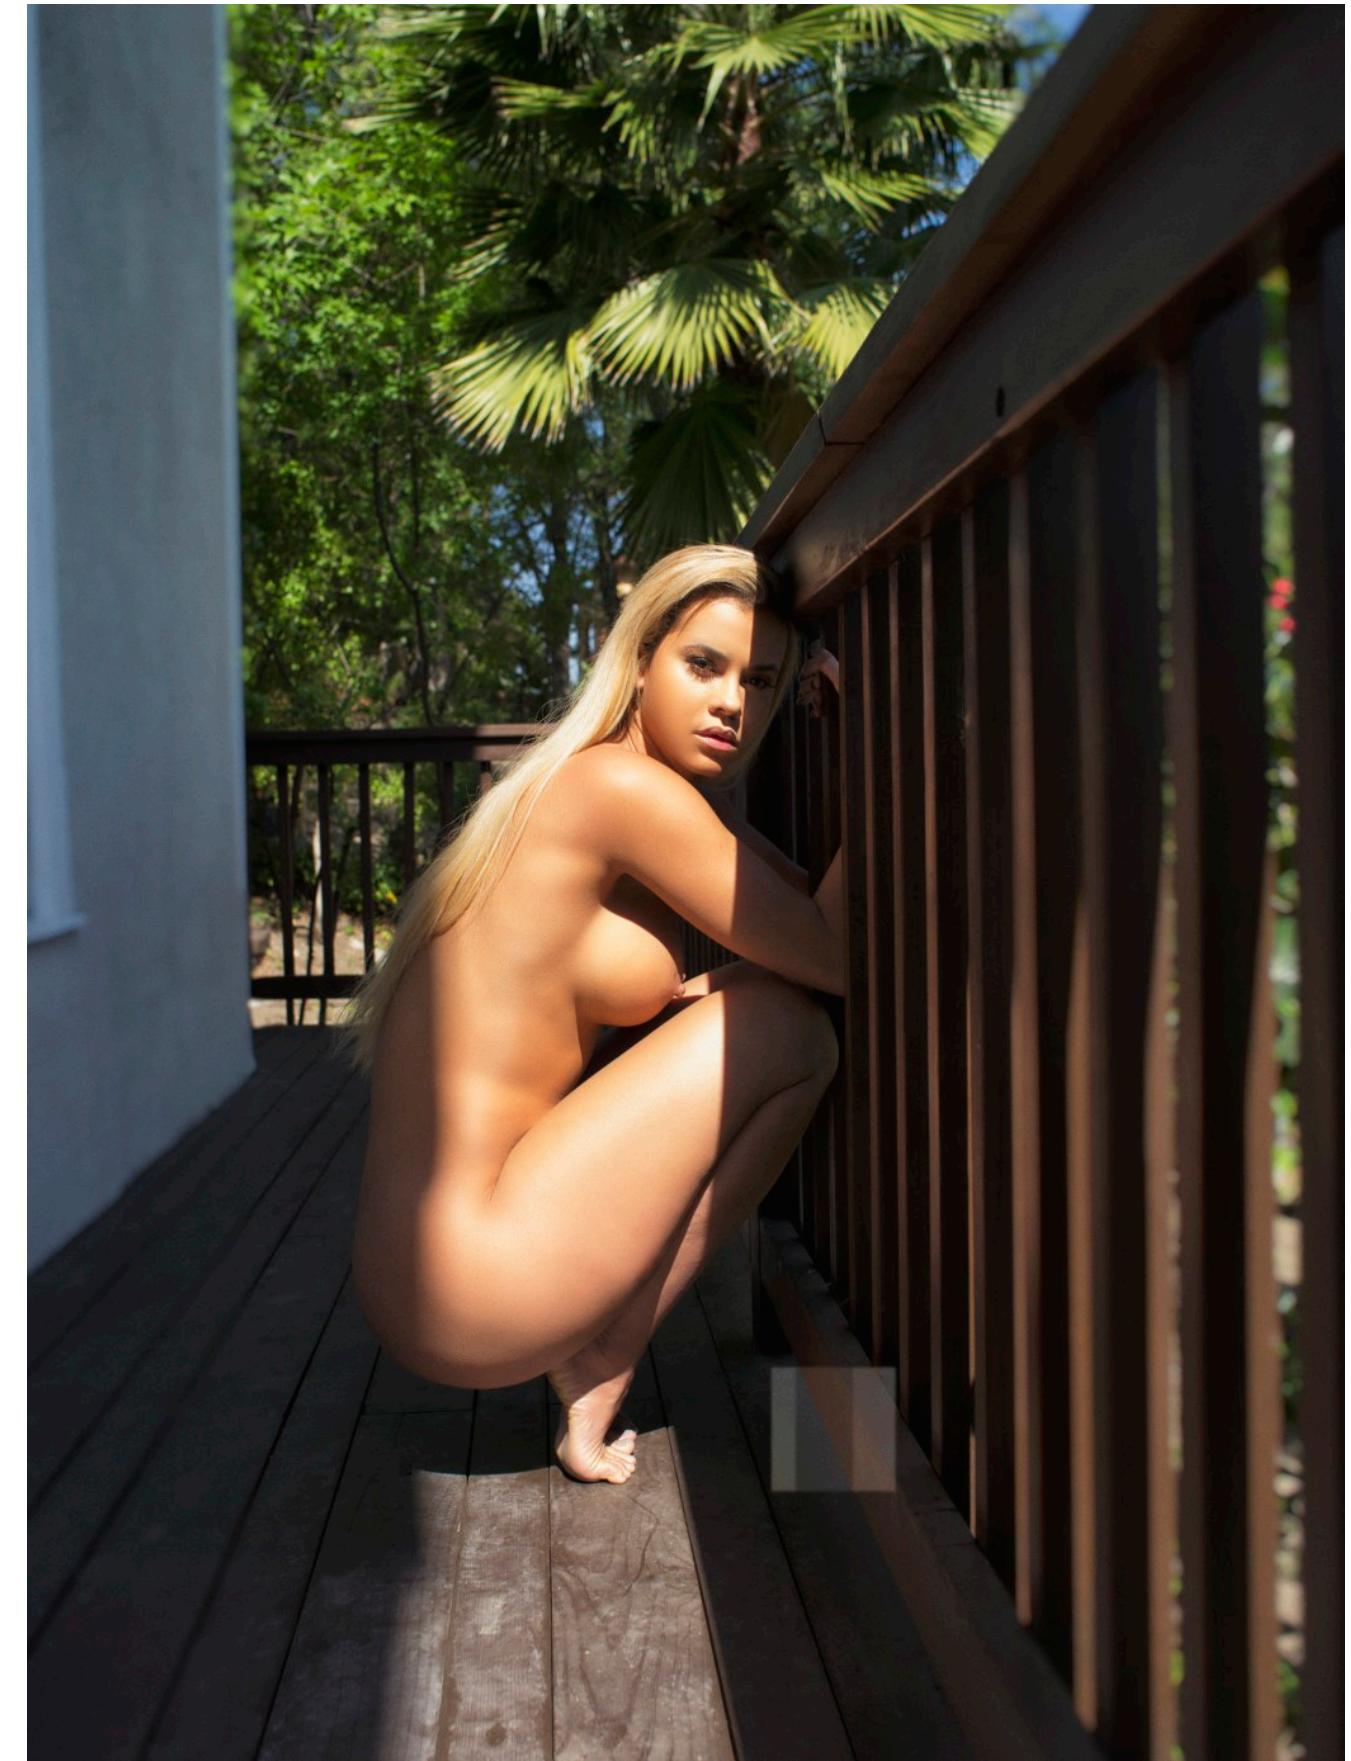

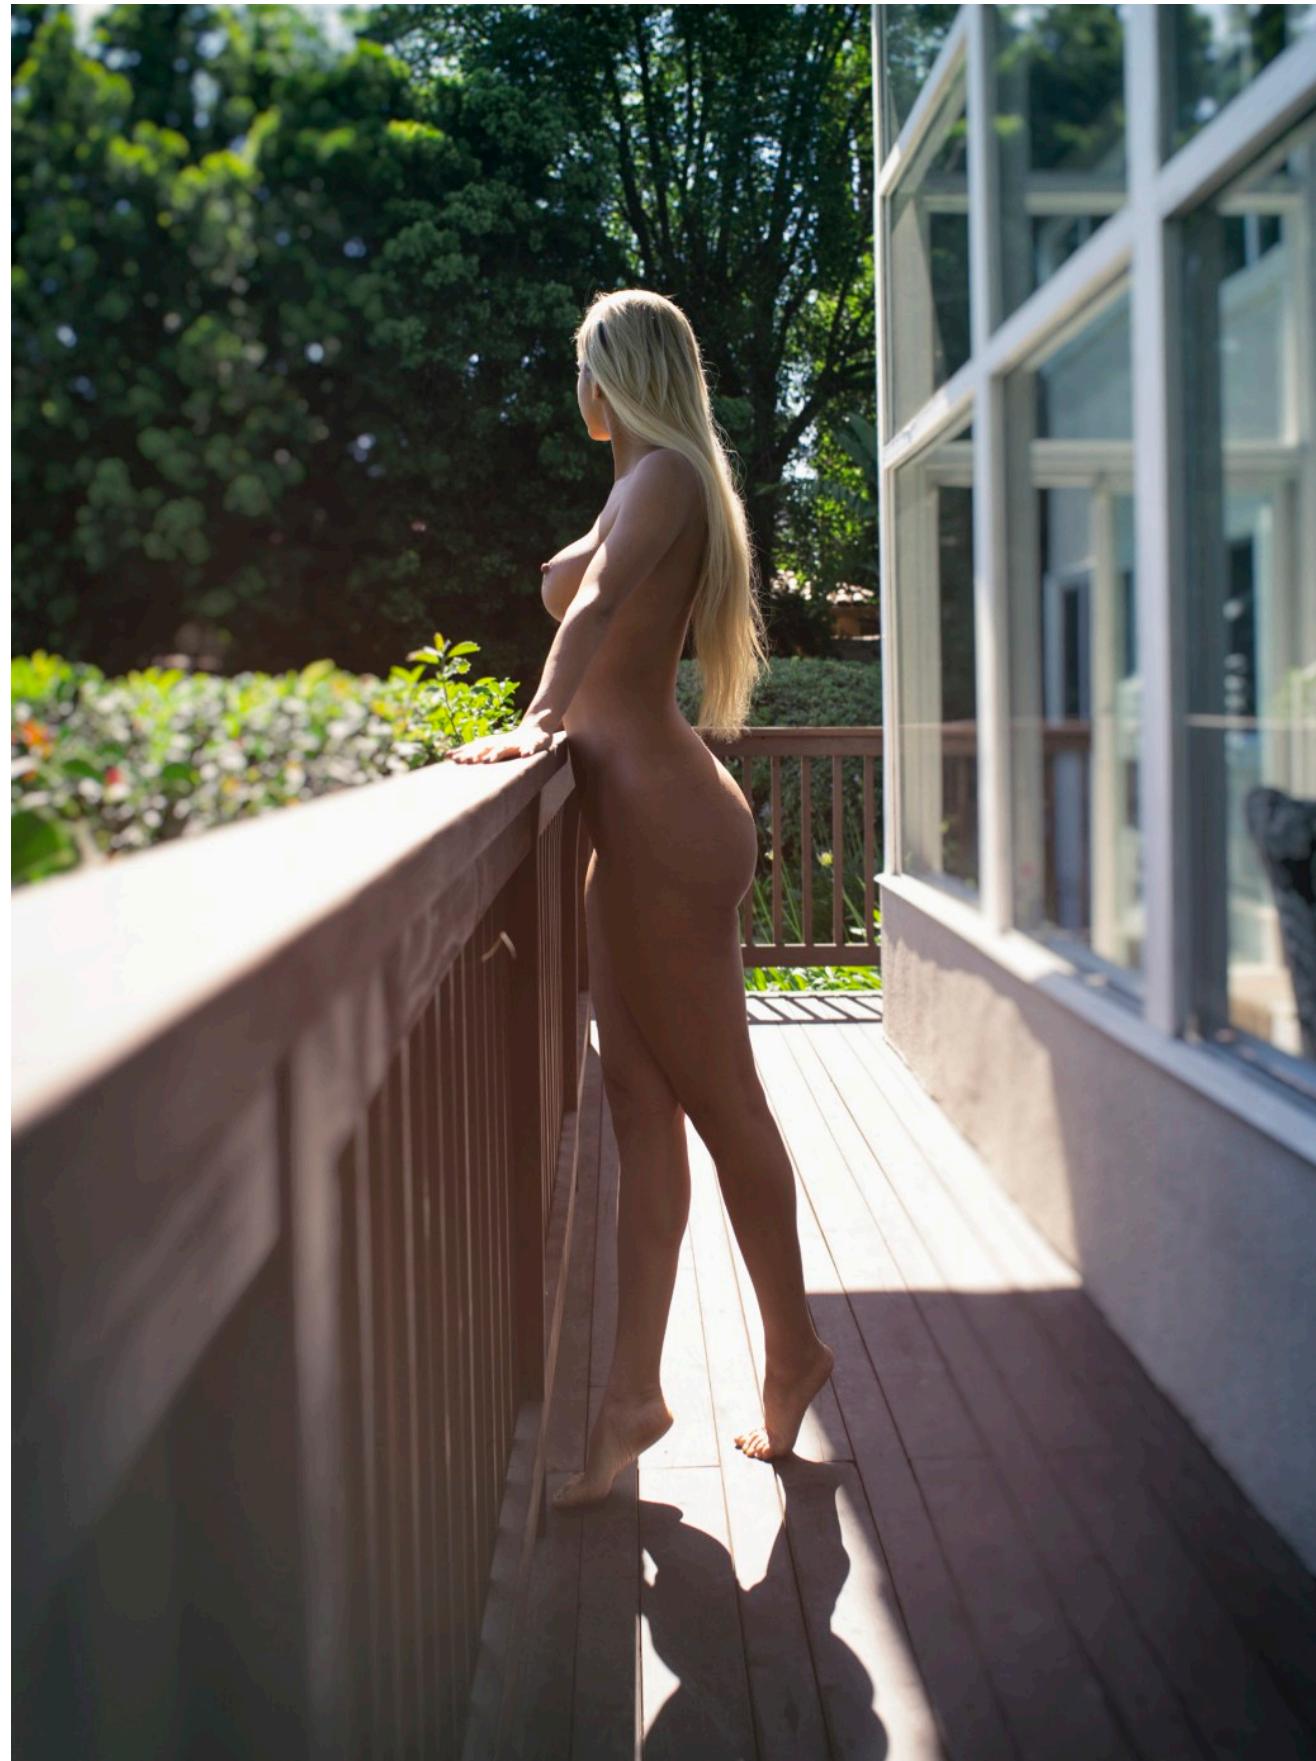

"My name is Juliana Reis (aka JuJu Reis). I am a Miami based model originally from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. I moved to NY city five years ago speaking only Portuguese. I'm self-taught in English (yes I read the NY times and spoke to Americans to learn the language). Now I'm fluent in Portuguese, English, and Spanish!"

I grew up with my grandmother who is an incredible seamstress. Because of her influence, I learned to sew at a young age which has led to my passion for fashion design. I studied fashion design for three years and I'm in the process of introducing a swimwear line in 6 months (expect a Brazilian flair with unique one of a kind swimsuits).

I enjoy working out in the gym, yoga and cooking healthy meals (and trust me I can be very creative in the kitchen). I've been modeling since early 2017 and absolutely love the experience! It has allowed me to travel and work with outstanding professionals. Recently I moved from NY to Miami and it definitely feels like home."

BUBBLY GIRL

RACHEL shot by GLAX GRACES

"Recently I saw David Bellemere's film (Nude) and I just loved how he worked on his models to achieve some of those insane poses only he knows how to get. There is one line where one of the lead in the film say that David first breaks the models and puts them back together like no other. And that was my inspiration. I want to see a woman's body like no one else has ever seen before. " - Glax Graces

"I always wanted to paint but was useless with a brush on a canvas. Even as a young child, I was enamored by pictures of sculptures and paintings around the world. I am yet to see all of it but I wish to complete that circuit one day. Of course, as any other Indian boy, I became a software engineer (by choice). And I was really good at it too. But there was this hollow feeling that I just could not let go. That's when I started experimenting with photography. Spending years and years trying to master the techniques. And then I met a spiritual guru who told me, "Try everything before deciding what you want to do. Don't say, it's not for me without experience how good or bad it is." I tried landscape, weddings, portraits, wildlife, boudoir and nudes. The one thing I realized was that human body has always been my favorite subject and anything with a person around makes me buzz.

I once read Katherine Mansfield saying, "How idiotic civilization is! Why be given a body if you have to keep it shut up in a case like a rare, rare fiddle?" And that gave me clarity to focus on shooting fine arts. Not porn, but arts. Sensualist, not hardcore. That's my ethos and that's what I try creating in my work.

I still work in the software industry as I enjoy it thoroughly. And I still shoot weddings too (there is something about it). Both give me the desired financial freedom to then explore my art and creating work by letting myself go."

RACHEL

Rachel is an aspiring model based out of Toronto Ontario Canada. Her personal goal in life is to enjoy the beauty of being natural with nature.

She enjoys the inner battle of nerves and empowerment that comes with modeling. Being in front of the lens is a chance for Rachel to rediscover and connect with the woman inside her. Showing the feminine side of strength, resilience and determination is a personal passion that isn't the foundation of her striking photographs. Rachel was born in a small town on the east coast of North Carolina. Growing up she was encouraged to be as creative as possible, as much as possible. She blossomed in the big city life after moving to Toronto in her teens and now spends her days working as a machine operator at an aluminum plant. She plans to study aircraft structure and begin a career in aerospace manufacturing.

In her off time Rachel enjoys modeling, singing, nature and is always building something. She loves being whimsical and is always looking to discover something new. Her interests range from mechanics, space science, professional sports, to nature.

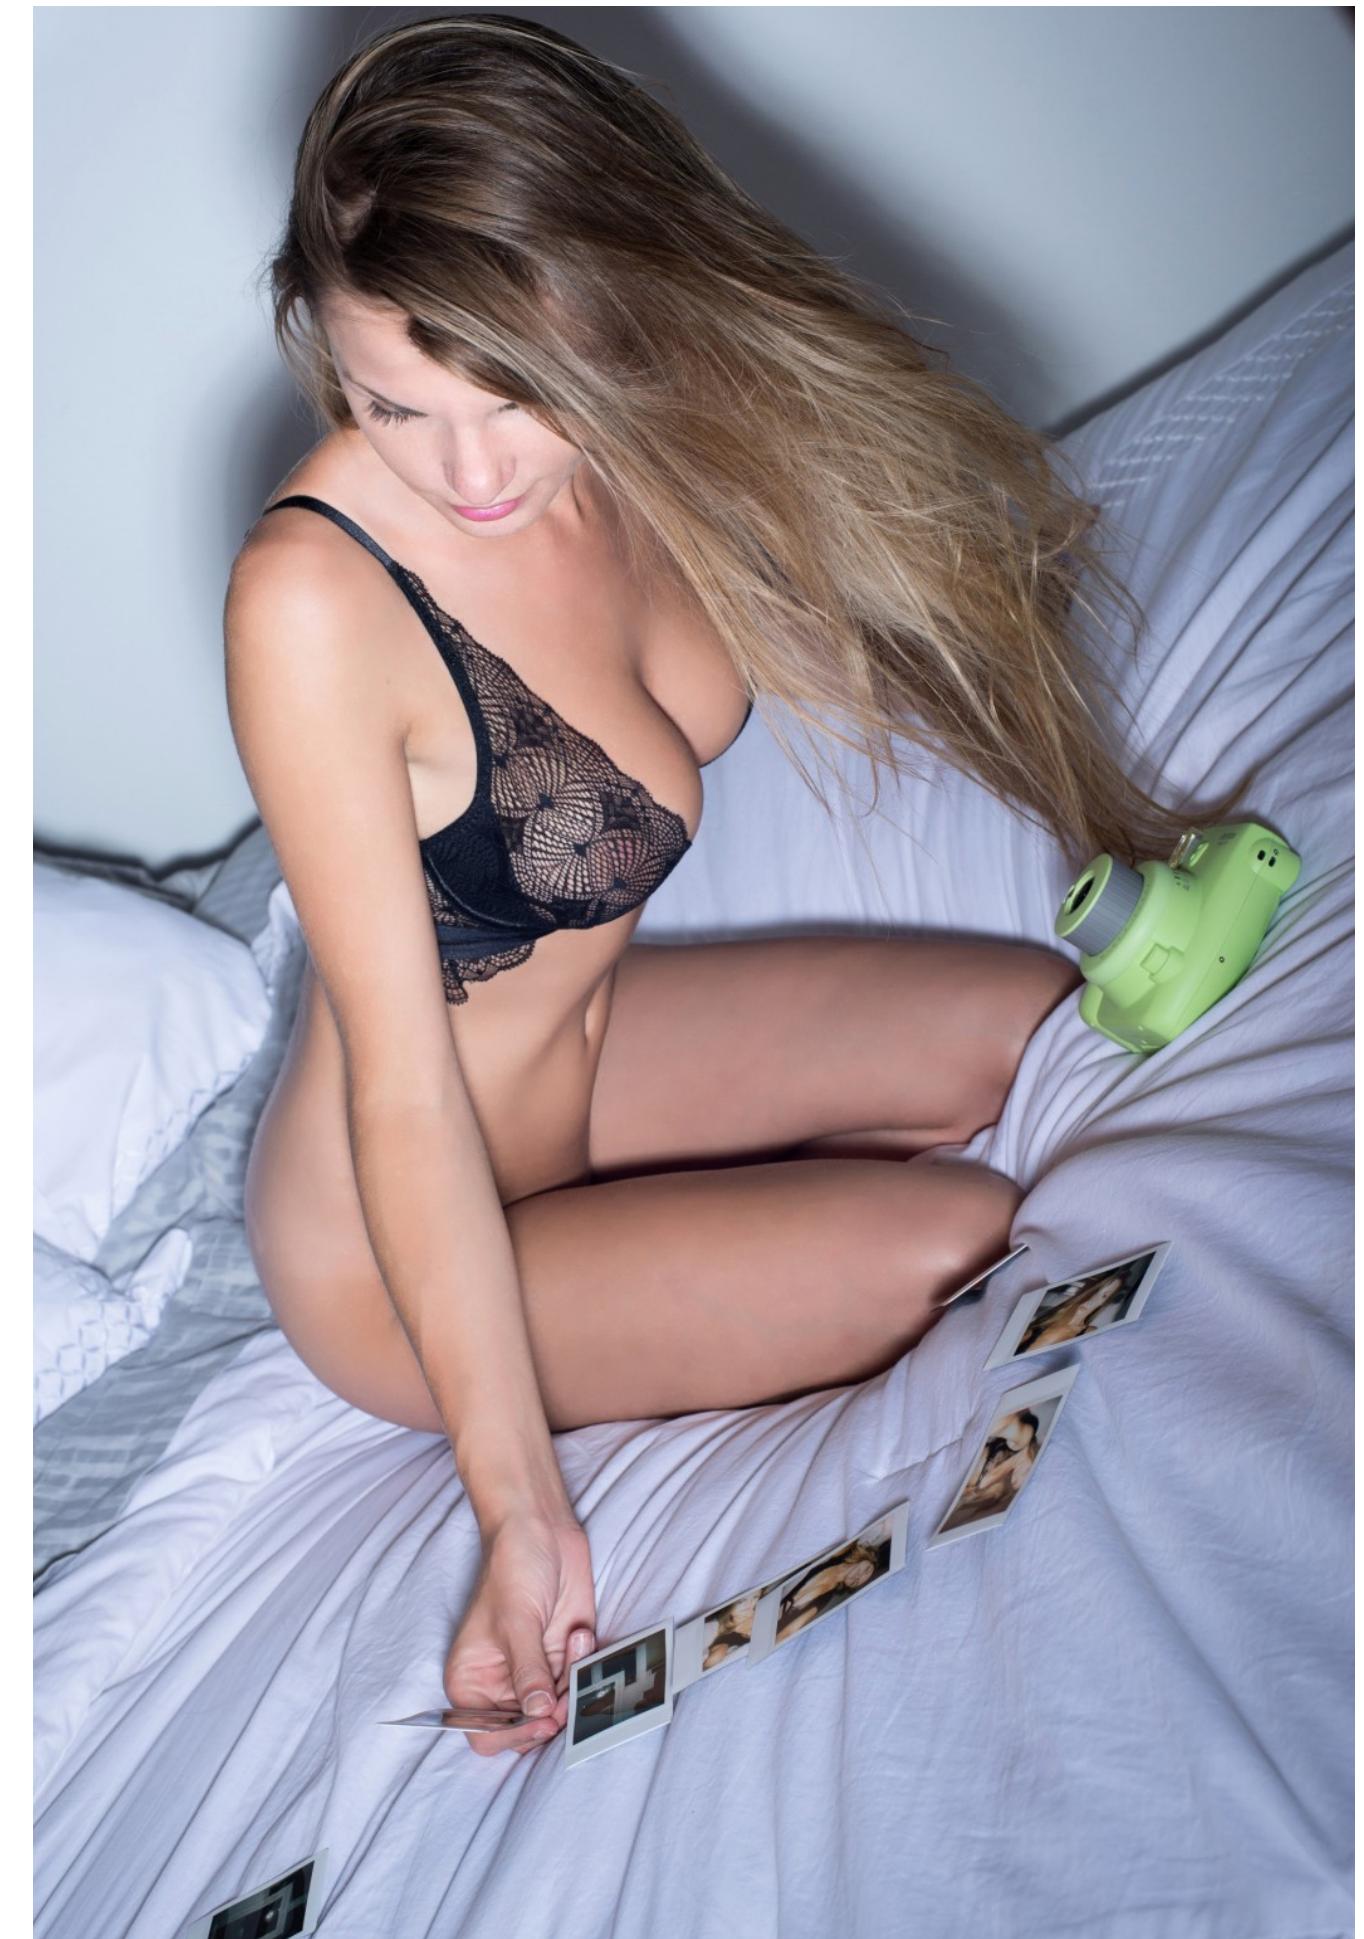

Rachel hopes to keep surrounding herself with thriving talent and continue sharing herself with the world.

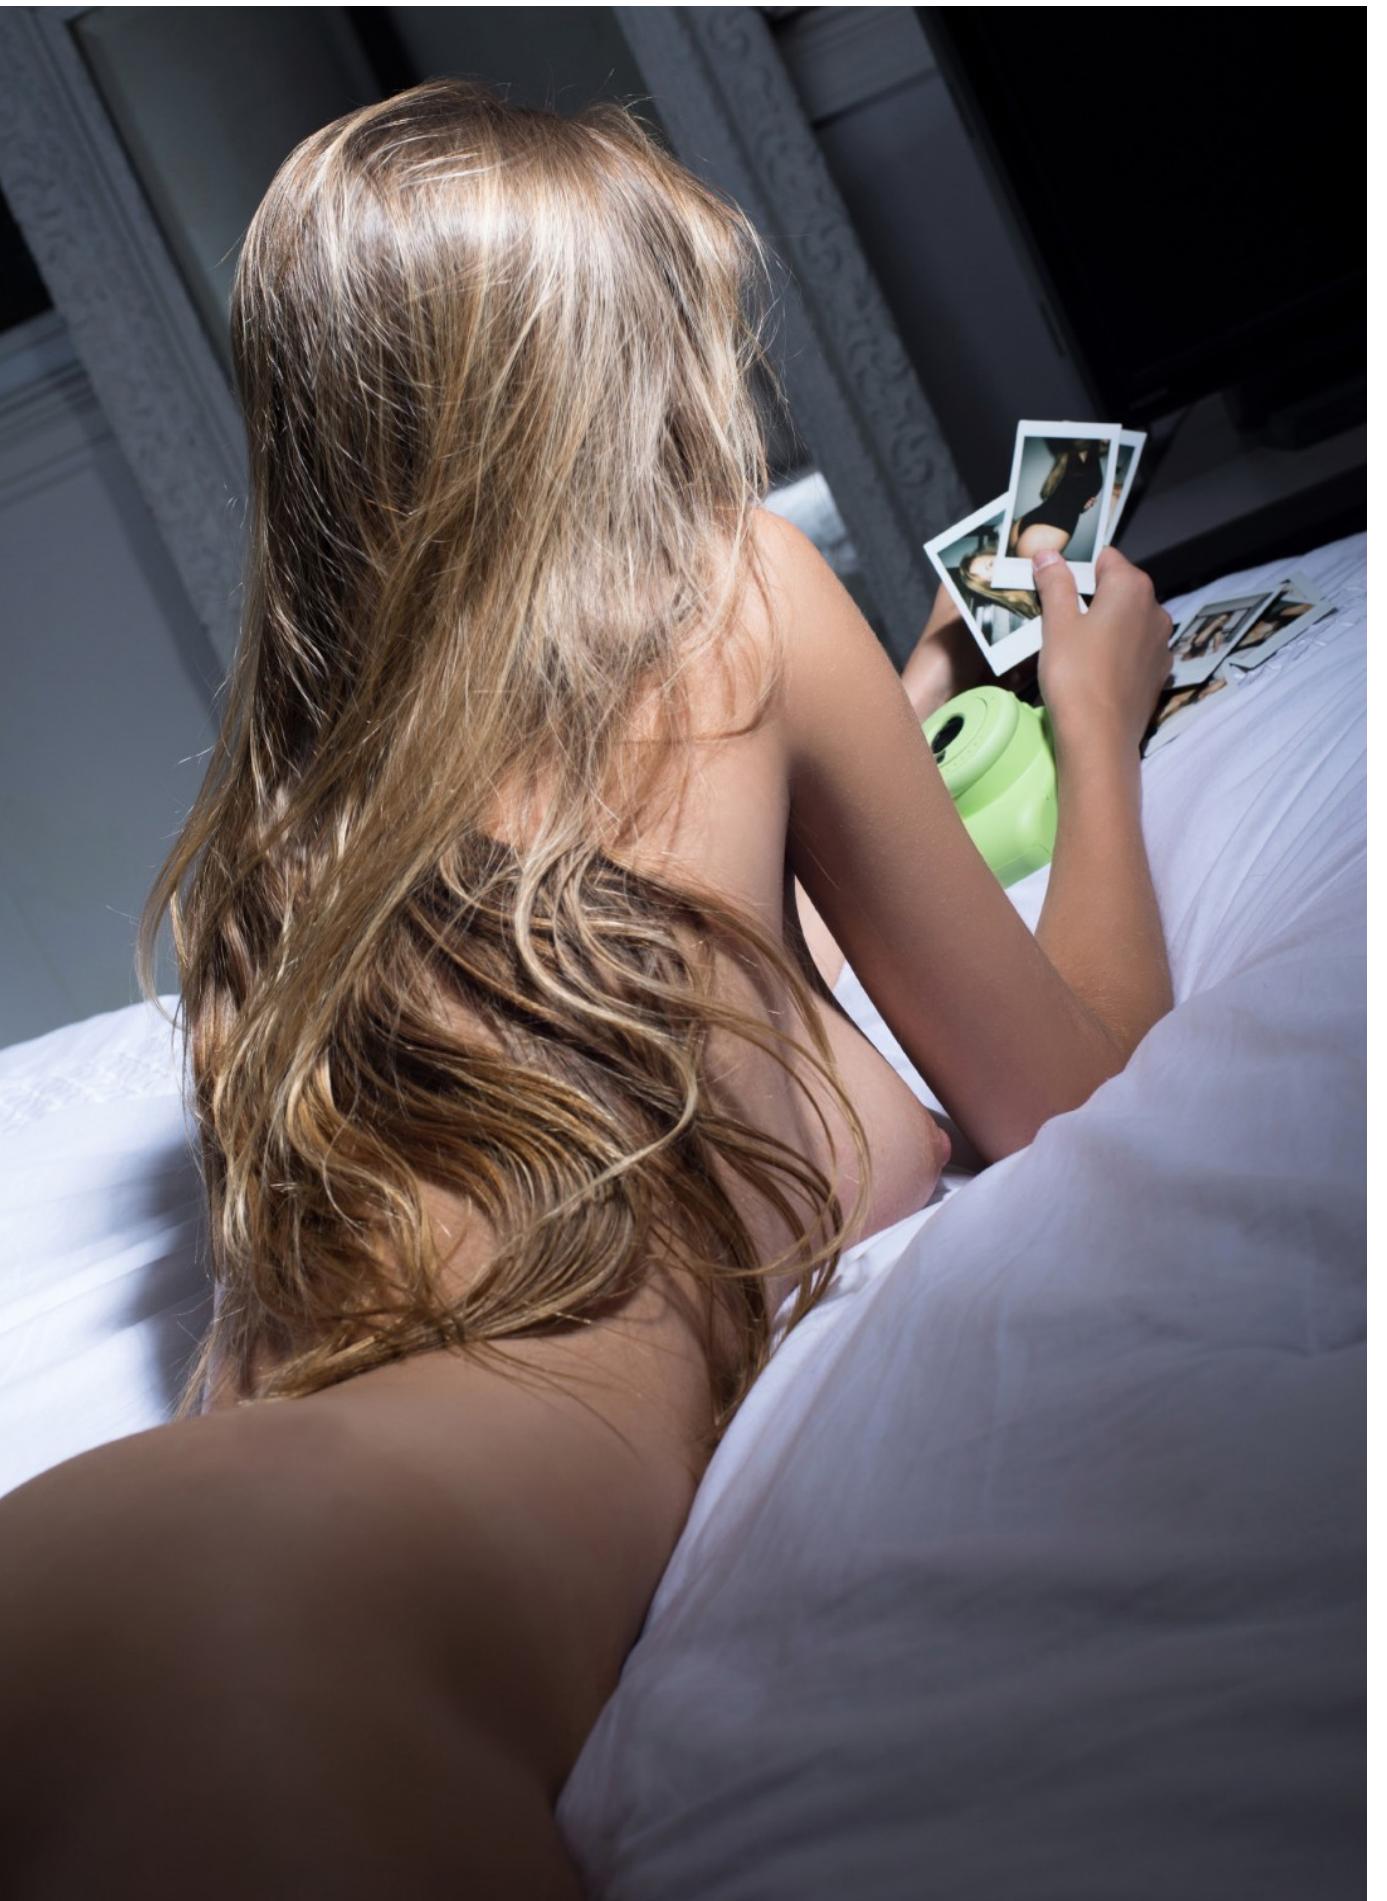

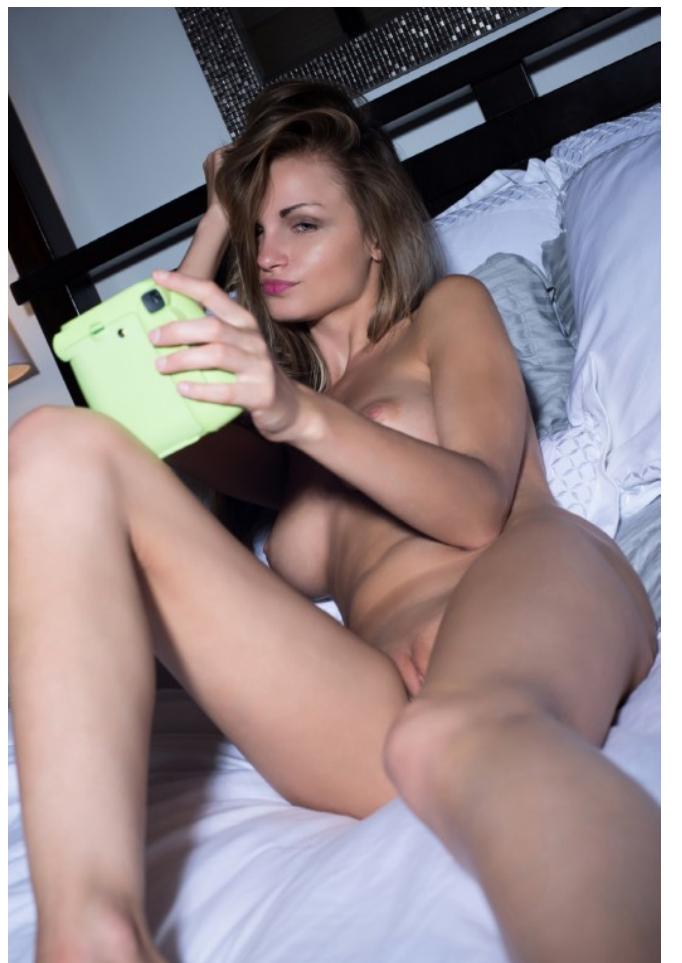

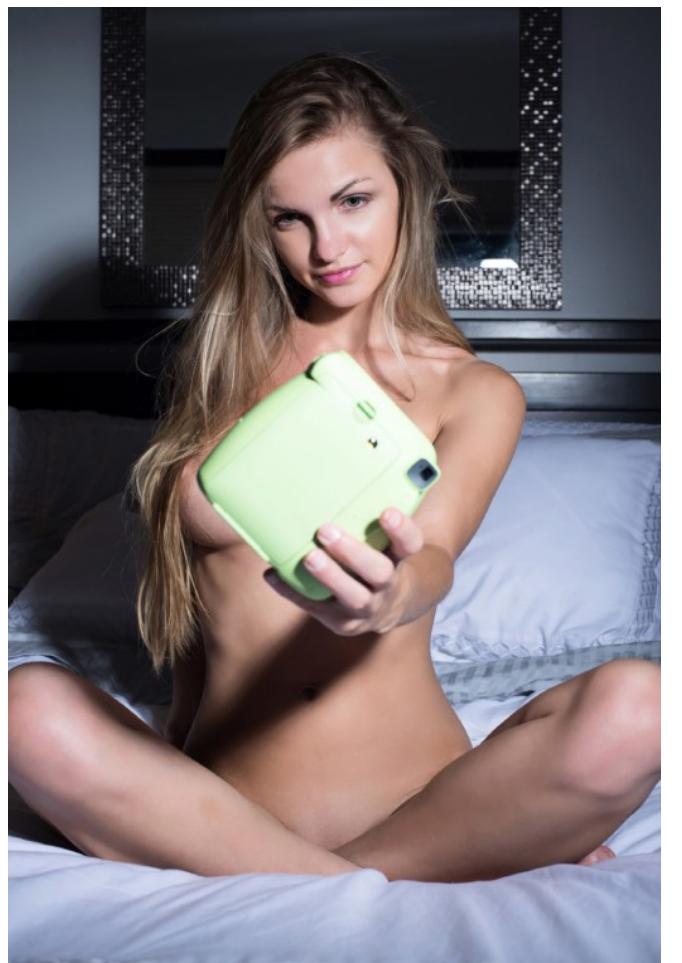

SELF-LOVE

ALEXIS REED
shot by SEAN MCCARTHY

I'm Sean, A portrait and commercial photographer based in the Capital District of Upstate New York. By the combination of my love of history, travel and women, I strive to make visually stimulating images in unique locations. Most days I'm forced to sit in a real estate development office pouring over floor plans finding unique ways to bring historic buildings back from the dead.

Amid my daily office life I'm fortunate that I'm able to utilize my intense love for history by shooting in various historical buildings on The Hudson River ranging from mid 19th century factories to a depression era bank.

In my spare time I enjoy scrounging in old barn sales and flea markets. I'm always on the lookout for interesting crap no one else needs or wants, which I can then incorporate into my shots in some obscure way no one will ever notice.

I also try to travel as much as I can and in the last few years I typically spend a lot of time on St Martin, in the French West Indies where I work on improving my underwater shots and frolic with gorgeous women on nude beaches. More than any other reason I do this because of the love of creating beautiful images for all the amazing, interesting, and crazy people I meet.

Lastly, I write terrible bios in order to showcase my photography. I applaud you reader, if you've made it this far into my bio. I hope you enjoy my work!"

ALEXIS REED

@lexi_lou_thur

"I'm Alexis Reed , at 23 years young and from Upstate New York. Through my life, I've always had a focus on living with a creative mind. It began with making clothing in learning how to sew at a young age and it all came naturally. In always being petite, I had a hard body shape to fit which made me feel different, but it also pushed me to forget what others see in me and find things out for myself through my interests. I began to model because my interests in the fashion industry expanded beyond the clothing and my confidence grew with me. The more I modeled, my love for this expressive art flourished and I gained more support in combining these two art forms. I wasn't being confined to one creative outlet and became my own kind of category where I have no limits."

I like closeups, details, that lots are not able to see. It can be in my model soul, their spirit, or their smile. None of my shooting are the same. I share with my muses more than photography, we are in a true respectfull fusion of joy and Art.

Meet me near Lyon, FRANCE, city of lights, or anywhere else on Earth. "

"Hello everyone,
